The Director of National Intelligence, or, if authorized by the President in accordance with this Act, the Deputy Director of National Intelligence or an Assistant Director of National Intelligence may serve as the Director of the Agency, provided that the designation of such person as Director shall be subject to advice and consent of the Senate. [Note: There should be an addition to section 702(b) of the Act, amending 5 U.S.C. 5313 to include the D/CIA at Level II of the Executive Pay Schedule]

(b) There shall be a Deputy Director of the Central Intelligence Agency (hereinafter in this title referred to as the "Deputy Director") who shall be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and who shall assist in carrying out the functions of the Director of the Agency and who shall exercise all the duties of the Director of the Agency in the absence of the Director of the Agency. The Agency is authorized to process, debrief, and provide relocation assistance to such individuals, as necessary and appropriate under regulations established by the Director of the Agency.

(b) When extraordinary circumstances indicate that a foreign person associated with the Agency should enter or leave the United States under other than that person's true identity, the Agency is authorized to notify the Immigration and Naturalization Service of these circumstances and request a waiver of otherwise applicable rules and procedures.

The foregoing shall not be construed as requiring the approval of any committee of the Congress prior to the initiation of any such activity; and

(3) the monies from the Reserve Fund are used solely for the purpose of meeting requirements that were not anticipated at the time the President's budget was submitted to the Congress for the fiscal year in which the withdrawal is authorized, and the activities to be funded require protection from unauthorized disclosure.
